Presidential Primary Election is Tuesday

Ward 4 primary election for vacant state representative seat is also Jan. 23

The 2024 Presidential Primary in New Hampshire will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 23. Polls in Dover will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The Presidential Primary has a Republican and a Democratic ballot. Voters may only take the ballot for the party in which they are registered except for undeclared voters. Undeclared voters may declare a party on the day of the primary and receive that party's ballot. The deadline to change party affiliation before the Presidential Primary Election was Oct. 6, 2023. Check voter registration on the New Hampshire Secretary of State's voter information website <https://app.sos.nh.gov>.

January 16 was the last day that residents could register to vote in the City Clerk's office before the Jan. 23 primary election. From now through Election Day, voter registration will occur at the voter's polling place on Election Day. However, this does not apply to those requesting an absentee ballot. Residents requesting an absentee ballot may register to vote in the City Clerk's office until 5:30 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 22, the day before the election.

Find more information, including sample ballots, at the city's 2024 Presidential Primary webpage. Election results will also be posted to this page when available after the election.

Ward 4 Strafford District 11 Special Primary Election

For voters in Ward 4, there will also be a special primary election for the race to fill the vacant Strafford District 11 state representative seat. Ward 4 voters will receive this ballot with their Presidential Primary ballot.

Find more information about his election, including sample ballots, on the city's 2024 District 11 Special Election webpage.

Ballot testing underway at City Hall

The City Clerk is testing the city's electronic ballot machines and test ballots today, Friday, Jan. 19, 2024. Testing began at 10 a.m. in the Auditorium at City Hall.

Ballot machine testing precedes the Tuesday, Jan. 23 Presidential Primary, and is open to all.

For more information, contact the City Clerk's office at 603-516-6018.

School Board Chair Robin Trefethen asks a question of the school department's business administrator, Michael Limmani, during a special budget meeting on Jan. 16.

School Board adopts FY2025 budget

Budget will be sent to City Manager for inclusion in overall city budget before the City Council in February

The School Board unanimously approved the School Department's fiscal year 2025 budget at its Jan. 16 special meeting. The budget will now be incorporated into the city-wide budget that will be introduced to the City Council next month.

The School Department's general fund operating expenses total $85,142,799, an increase of $3,776,857, or 4.6%, over the current fiscal year. This amount includes $6,222,124 in debt service payments. The amount to be raised by local property tax would be $57,388,299, an increase of $5,628,999, or 10.9%, over the current fiscal year. As adopted, the budget is $2,328,339 above the education side of the estimated tax cap calculation.

The new budget does not add any new positions, and Superintendent William Harbron and Business Michael Administrator Limanni have explained the request for additional money above the tax cap is to maintain current services due to the significant loss in state education funding, including a reduction of $2,254,464 in state adequacy education aid and a $183,412 reduction in the statewide education tax. There is also a significant increase in the estimated legally required special education costs. The FY2025 budget's estimated special education cost increase is $2,569,369, which includes $1,123,000 in legally required special education transportation costs.

The Jan. 16 meeting and all previous budget meetings and workshops, along with associated documents are posted on the FY2025 Budget Revealed webpage.

DOVER CITY COUNCIL ON THE AGENDA

Coming up at the next City Council meeting

Council to create Joint Building Committee for Dunaway Field upgrades

Authorizing expenditures for water treatment and wastewater treatment plant projects also on agenda

The City Council meets for a 7 p.m. regular meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 24

At the meeting, the Council is set to create a Joint Building Committee for the planned improvements to Dunaway Field at Dover High School, including to the field, track, bleachers, lighting and outdoor storage. In December, the City Council authorized $2,500,000 in bonding for the project in the FY2025-2030 Capital Improvements Program. In the FY2021-2026 CIP, the Council budgeted 350,000 in capital reserves for bleacher replacement. The City Council and the School Board will each appoint three members to the committee to oversee the improvements.

The Council is also set to authorize expending $150,000 to Underwood Engineers to develop detailed operating procedures for the new Pudding Hill Water Treatment Plant that is close to completion, and to optimize the use of artificial aquifer recharge to minimize the number of contaminants reaching the new treatment plant. Additional consultant/engineering work will also be covered for additional construction administration and oversight, as the treatment plant contractor has experienced a few equipment delays that have pushed back the start-up of the plant. Substantial completion of the new plant is slated for late February, with full operation targeted for mid-April. The city will seek full reimbursement of the $150,000 from the state's PFAS Remediation Grant.

Also on the agenda:

- Authorization to accept and expend a $175,116 Highway Block Aid and $231,021 and Municipal Bridge Aid from the New Hampshire Department of Transportation;
- Award a bid to Strafford Regional Planning Commission for $53,706 to undertake a regulatory audit of existing land use policies and assist in drafting revisions to mitigate barriers and better incentivize the creation of attainable housing;
- Authorize the reprogramming of $200,000 of unexpended bonds from the River Street pump station project to the Wastewater Treatment Plant aeration blower retrofit CIP project;
- Authorize expending $179,000 for construction administration services provided by Wright-Pierce for the aeration blower project.

A look at Dover's snow removal operations

In this episode of the Dover Download podcast, Deputy City Manager Christopher Parker chats with John Storer, Community Services Director, and Brian Landry, Public Works Supervisor, about winter preparations and challenges in snow removal. The conversation covers the extensive planning and preparation undertaken by the team before snowfall, including equipment readiness and crew briefing. They discuss the types of equipment used, like wing plow trucks, loaders, and sidewalk tractors, emphasizing the all-hands-on-deck approach during plowing events.

Do your part and 'scoop the poop'

Rain or snow runoff can carry pet waste directly into waterways or storm drains, usually empty without any treatment into a stream, river, or estuary. Untreated fecal matter can be a source of harmful bacteria and nutrients. Just as we don't want human sewage in our water, preventing pet waste from being carried into our waterways is important.

It isn't just water quality that can suffer. Leaving pet waste on the ground, especially in public areas like parks or playing fields, may pose a risk to children, adults, and pets.

Pet waste carries disease-causing organisms such as Giardia and Salmonella, which can make water unsafe for drinking or swimming; to protect the public from illness, swimming beaches and shellfish beds can be shut down due to bacterial contamination, and pet waste can be a cause of that contamination.

Pet waste left on playing fields or in parks can be unhealthy and messy.

Let's work together to eliminate pet waste from our water resources and recreational areas. Scooping your pup's poop isn't just a courtesy for those walking behind you; it's the healthy and environmentally sound thing to do. Picking up after your dog is not only easy, in Dover it's the law. You can help do your part by taking a pledge to pick up after your pooch, part of the Every Drop Counts initiative. Take the pledge here: stateofourestuaries.org/everydrop/petpledge For more information, including tips, visit the City of Dover's pet waste web page.

We want to hear from you! In each edition of Dover Download, we're looking for your response to our question of the week. A new poll will appear each week in Dover Download, along with the previous week's results. Participating is easy – just click on the link below to cast your vote.

This week's question: "What is your favorite Dover park?"

Let us know here: <https://polco.us/mhuk79>.

Please note that if you don't already have an account with Polco, the city's polling system, you will be asked to create one.

Here are the results from last week's poll, which asked, "What do you like most about living in Dover?"

The following events are from various historical records, sources, and texts about the history of Dover.

For more on the history of Dover, visit the Dover Public Library, Locust Street, and the Woodman Museum on Central Avenue. The Public Library also maintains an online collection of historical information located here.

Jan. 25, 1673 — John Roberts and Jeremie Tebbets had liberty from the selectmen to improve six acres of land in the common lying off the east side of the path that "doeth go unto the watering place on Dover Neck near unto Thomas Perkins' house," which land was to be improved by them seven years for their use, and then to be returned for the town's use, and left plain for feeding grounds.

Jan. 22, 1770 — The town voted to build a new bridge over the Cochecho River, below Capt. Waldron's mills at the lower falls. Two hundred pounds were raised by taxes for the new bridge. Workers constructing the bridge were paid two shillings per day.

Jan. 23, 1777 — Strafford County Sheriff Theophilus Dame received orders from the Committee of Safety to "liberate from prison all such of the New York prisoners as gave bonds with two sufficient sureties, to the Speaker of the House, to remain true prisoners within the town of Dover, such sureties being inhabitants of this State."

Jan. 20, 1941 — All of Dover's public schools were closed this day for the remainder of the week due to an outbreak of influenza. The decision was made after 763 students were out sick with the flu. The outbreak also forced health officials to cancel all athletic activities and prohibit children from attending local theaters.

Jan. 26, 1997 — A lucky couple from Dover was headed to the Super Bowl this week in 1997 thanks to an improbable series of events. Robin Goss and her boyfriend Robert Haywood won a raffle held by the Somersworth Police Association for New England Patriots season tickets. That year, the previously struggling Patriots exceeded expectations and made it to the Super Bowl. As season ticket holders, the Police Association was able to purchase tickets for playoff and Super Bowl games. They agreed to buy tickets for the Dover couple if they were reimbursed. Amazingly, the Association won a ticket lottery for the Super Bowl. Ms. Goss and Mr. Haywood happily paid $275 per ticket. The Dover residents were seated in section 612 at Super Bowl XXXI. The New England Patriots would lose the Super Bowl to the Green Bay Packers, 35-21.

The Dover Library presents a history of fashion from the 1700s to 1950s

Ever wonder what made skirts so big in the 19th century? Why hemlines fluctuated through history? Or why top hats grew out of fashion?

Discover the answer to these questions and more when the Dover Public Library hosts "The History of Fashion: 1700s to 1950s" at 6:30 p.m. on Jan. 24.

Katie Raynes (they/them), role-playing coordinator at Strawberry Banke Museum, will take participants on a trek through history to learn about various fashion trends — why they changed and how fashion differed between wealthy and average people.

The presentation will be in person and can be viewed virtually from home. Those wishing to livestream the program must visit the library's website to register and receive a link. Aside from a PowerPoint presentation, the event will feature historical costumes on display and models demonstrating outfits from different periods.

Raynes is responsible for maintaining the museum's costume collection and researching historical fashion. Raynes has a bachelor's degree in English with a minor in history and a master's degree in English literature from the University of New Hampshire. They have published several best-selling LGBTQA+ fiction novels.

The program is free and open to the public.

Volunteer boards help keep Dover vibrant

The City of Dover is a vibrant community due in large part to the significant energy and talent of citizen participation on the city's many boards, committees, and commissions. Input from these boards, committees, and commissions helps guide Dover's policy decisions.

Want to get involved? There are currently committees seeking members to fill regular and alternate member vacancies, including the:

- Energy Commission
- Pool Advisory Committee
- Committee for Racial Equity and Inclusion
- Recreation Advisory Board
- Arena Commission
- Open Lands Committee
- Utilities Commission
- Committee to Address Community Housing Needs

The complete list of boards and committees can be found at www.dover.nh.gov/government/boards-and-commissions/

To apply, complete an application, available here and at the City Clerk's Office, and either drop it off at the Clerk's Office or email it to City Clerk Jerrica Vansylyvong-Bizier at j.bizier@dover.nh.gov. Applicants are welcome to apply to any board or commission. Applications are kept on file for one year.

The City Council appoints citizens to boards and commissions from recommendations of its Appointments Committee, which meets regularly to review applications.
