Celebrate Fourth of July safely

Fireworks illegal in Dover

Police Chief William Breault and Fire Chief Michael McShane are reminding residents that consumer fireworks are not only dangerous, but also illegal to possess and discharge in the City of Dover.

According to city ordinances, "no person, firm, partnership or corporation shall offer for sale, expose for sale, sell at retail, purchase, possess, transport, use or explode any fireworks without a permit."

Permits in Dover are only granted for programs and displays approved by the Fire and Rescue Chief and the Police Chief using Class C fireworks. All displays must be conducted by a trained operator who holds a current license or State of New Hampshire certificate of competency.

According to the National Fire Protection Association, fireworks are responsible for nearly 20,000 fires each year, as well as several injuries and deaths. The property damage from these fires is over $100 million.

In 2018, U.S. hospital emergency rooms treated an estimated 9,100 people for fireworks-related injuries; half of those injuries were to the extremities and 34% were to the eye or other parts of the head. Children younger than 15 years of age accounted for more than one-third (36%) of the estimated 2018 injuries.

In addition to the threat of fire and injury, fireworks can also trigger episodes of post-traumatic stress disorder in some of our veterans and cause extreme distress for pets.

There are many safe alternatives to fireworks, including:

- Glow sticks
- Red and blue bubbles
- Silly string
- Confetti
- Party crackers
- Pinwheels

City not adding fluoride to public water due to nationwide shortage

The City of Dover is running out of sodium fluoride, and it will temporarily stop adding it to the public drinking water as it cannot obtain more because of a nationwide shortage.

According to Community Services, which oversees Dover's public drinking water supply, the city's sodium fluoride supply will soon be exhausted, and optimal levels of 0.7 milligrams per liter (mg/L) will no longer be achieved. Community Services anticipates not adding fluoride into the water supply for several months until it can replenish its supply.

Community Services will provide an update when the city obtains sodium fluoride again and can bring it to its optimal target concentration level of 0.7 mg/L in the water system, as state and federal guidelines recommend. The City of Dover public water system also includes some Madbury, Rollinsford and Somersworth customers.

Fluoride is not required for safe drinking water but instead used as a health benefit. Dover has added sodium fluoride into the water system since 1990, following its approval by voters through a ballot referendum question in the 1987 municipal election. Per state law, adding or removing fluoride from a public water system is allowed following the written petition of 10% of registered voters of all municipalities served by the water system and a majority vote by those voters at a city election or town meeting.

For more information, contact Community Services at 603-516-6450.

Electricity rates to increase in August

Average monthly bills could rise by $77; some assistance programs available now or in the works

Eversource Energy's electricity rates will increase significantly for at least six months, beginning Aug. 1, 2022, after the New Hampshire Public Utilities Commission (PUC) granted the increase due to rising electricity production costs.

The rate increase, approved by the PUC on June 23, affects residential and business customers.

Beginning Aug. 1, 2022, the electricity for residential customers will increase 111.5%, from 10.669 cents per kilowatt-hour to 22.556 cents per kWh. Eversource seeks bids every six months from electricity generators and adjusts electricity rates accordingly after receiving PUC approval.

"For a residential customer using 650 kWh per month, when transmission and distribution costs are included, the result will be an increase in the monthly bill from $145.11 to $222.44, or about $77.33 more (an increase of 53.3%), compared to current rates," the PUC stated in its June 23 order approving the rate increase. "The residential energy service rate is 13.74 cents per kWh higher than the same six-month period (August to January) a year ago."

According to Eversource, which only transmits but does not generate electricity, the increase is due to record-high natural gas prices and the global economy.

"Natural gas is the primary fuel for generating electricity in the region," an Eversource email about the rates increase states. "Given world events, we could see continued volatility in energy supply prices for the foreseeable future."

Eversource encourages customers to manage their energy use this summer carefully and offers suggestions on how to do so at <https://www.eversource.com/content/nh/residential/save-money-energy>.

Eversource also encourages customers to shop and compare energy supply prices with energy suppliers. Registered energy suppliers can be found on the New Hampshire Department of Energy website. For more information, visit <https://www.energy.nh.gov/consumers/choosing-energy-supplier>.

Payment assistance programs

Eversource also offers payment programs, including:

- Extended payment plans to help customers pay off a balance over a period of time and prevent service interruption;
- Budget billing, to help avoid seasonal bill spikes with a fixed payment amount each month based on average annual usage;
- Discount rate for customers with a household income that meets eligibility requirements;
- New start program, which may eliminate portions of an overdue balance in as little as 12 months with on-time payments.

For more information, visit <https://www.eversource.com/content/ct-c/residential/account-billing/payment-assistance>.

Electricity assistance program

Community Action Partnership of Strafford County also offers electrical assistance, giving eligible customers a discount on their monthly electric bill, from 8% to 76%, depending on gross household income and household size. For more information, visit <https://straffordcap.org/electrical-assistance/>, or call 603-435-2500.

Potential legislative relief

Gov. Chris Sununu and legislative leaders proposed energy relief programs on June 22. The proposals include a $100 credit for most residential electric bills in the state, $7 million from state surplus funds to shore up the Electric Assistance Program, and an allocation of $7.5 million to provide low-income families financial assistance to keep cool during the summer.

The proposed energy relief programs still need to go through the legislative process before becoming a reality.

City schedules neighborhood meetings in advance of road reconstruction projects

Community Services will hold two neighborhood meetings about upcoming road reconstruction projects this month. One meeting will be for the Court Street and Union Street Reconstruction Project, and the other will be for the Fifth Street and Grover Street Reconstruction Project. Both projects are in the preliminary design phase.

The meetings will allow city staff to discuss project objectives with residents and the findings of the recently completed base surveys. The meetings will also allow city staff to solicit residents for feedback and gather ideas as work begins on final design plans.

The reconstruction for both projects includes upgrading underground utilities and addressing the conditions of the drainage, roadway and sidewalks. Work to date has included geotechnical borings to investigate subsurface conditions within the project area, video inspection of the existing stormwater drain, sewer main and sewer services and creating base surveys. The goal is to have final design plans ready for both projects by year's end to allow the projects to go for bid and for construction work to begin in 2023.

The City of Dover is committed to a multi-modal approach to roadway design, particularly in urban residential areas. The City of Dover has tasked each project's contracted engineer consultant to design the reconstruction project so that streets and sidewalks are safe and accessible for all users regardless of age, physical ability or mode of transport.

Court Street and Union Street Reconstruction Project

Community Services will host a neighborhood meeting for this project on Wednesday, July 13, at 6 p.m. at Community Services' public works facility at 271 Mast Road.

The city has contracted with Wright-Peirce of Portsmouth to design the project, which began work last summer. As the project develops, the City of Dover plans regular email updates to help residents and businesses prepare for construction disruptions. To sign-up for these updates, visit <https://bit.ly/dovernewsletters>, and add "Project update: Court Street and Union Street Reconstruction" to your current email subscription list. There is also a project webpage located at <https://www.dover.nh.gov/government/city-operations/community-services/current-projects/court-street-union-street-reconstruction-project/>

Fifth Street and Grove Street Reconstruction Project

Community Services will host a neighborhood meeting for this project on Tuesday, July 19, at 6 p.m. at Community Services' public works facility at 271 Mast Road.

The firm Woodward & Curran of Andover, Massachusetts, is the contracted design consultant for the project, which began work earlier this year. As the project develops, the City of Dover plans regular email updates to help residents and businesses prepare for construction disruptions. To sign-up for these updates, visit <https://bit.ly/dovernewsletters>, and add "Project update: Fifth Street and Grove Street Reconstruction" to your current email subscription list. There is also a project webpage located at <https://www.dover.nh.gov/government/city-operations/community-services/current-projects/fifth-street-grove-street-reconstruction-project/>.

Strafford Regional Planning Commission launches Arts and Culture Inventory

The Strafford Regional Planning Commission (SRPC) recently launched its Arts and Culture Inventory map of art and culture sites. The map is intended to introduce residents and visitors to new destinations, groups, and events that are within the following categories: historic, community, retail, events, clubs/groups, art/music education, public art and memorials, and museums/venues/galleries.

SRPC utilized funding through its EDA Partnership Grant and via its EDA CARES funding to begin the Arts and Culture Inventory. SRPC EDA CARES funding is a one-time award intended to support activities to prevent, prepare for, and respond to the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, or respond to economic injury as a result of coronavirus. In this case, some of the grant funding was used to support local arts and cultural entities via the Arts and Culture Inventory.

Since the Art and Culture Inventory project did not have a programmatic funding source, it will be ongoing and built out over time. To assist with this, users are encouraged to submit missing sites using the integrated form.

The Arts and Culture Inventory map comes on the heels of the successful Promoting Outdoor Play! \(POP!\) map of 350 recreation sites, categorized as trails, playgrounds, parks and others. To learn more about SRPC, visit www.strafford.org.

Dover Download podcast your guide to what's happening this week

In addition to each week's email edition of Dover Download, the City of Dover offers a weekly podcast. The podcast is hosted by Deputy City Manager Christopher Parker, who chats each week about the city's programs, services, public bodies and projects. Each episode also takes a brief detour to the past with a look back at the week in Dover's history.

The podcast is now available wherever you get your podcasts, including Spotify and Apple Podcasts, and at <https://anchor.fm/cityofdovernh>.

The following events are from a variety of historical records, sources and texts about the history of Dover.

For more on the history of Dover, visit the Dover Public Library, Locust Street, and the Woodman Museum on Central Avenue. The Public Library also maintains an online collection of historical information, located here.

July 5, 1792 — From the Dover Phoenix: "We are informed from good authority that a canal is to be dug from Winnepesaukee pond to unite the waters with the Cochecho river — and that a subscription is filling for that purpose — and we hear that a gentleman of property in Portsmouth has offered 500 pounds towards the undertaking — and considering the rage for Canal cutting — it will be accomplished with ease — as 'tis said, that the water in the pond at the time of the great freshet, a few years since, overflowed, and found their way into Cochecho river." A correspondent of the Phoenix, in the issue of July 19, offers to "communicate" the waters of the pond and the Cochecho for one hundred dollars, though he says "to make it navigable for rafts of lumber, etc., from Merrymeeting river to Norway Plain in Rochester, it will undoubtedly cost several thousands."

July 4, 1806 — The day was noticed with "uncommon festivity." Its early dawn was liberally saluted by Capt. Henderson's company of Artillerists, which performed the occasional evolutions with great spirit and precision. At 11 o'clock the company collected at Mr. Ela's tavern "where the parched throat was agreeably slacked with cooling punch." An elegant dinner was prepared in "Union Hall upon the hill opposite the Great Falls."

July 2, 1847 — President James K. Polk and suite passed through Dover this day, in a special train, on his way to Portland.

July 3, 1849 — The town of Rollinsford, formerly part of Dover, and afterwards of Somersworth, was set off and incorporated.

July 3, 1998 — A new 40-foot flagpole was dedicated this day at Dunaway Field, at Dover High School. The baseball field had been without a flagpole for years, meaning someone had to hold the flag during the National Anthem. Carey Ann Cyr of Dover High School's Class of 1995, had previously sung the National Anthem at the field, while someone held up a flag, and used a $1,000 donation to her and a charity of her choice to help the Dover High School athletic program purchase and install a flagpole. Cyr also organized a concert fundraiser to help cover the remaining difference of the cost of the flagpole, $1,484. Then head of the DHS maintenance department, Thom Forbes, donated the installation of the flagpole. The High Flying Flag company of Greenland donated an 8-foot by 12-foot American flag to the cause. Cyr sang the National Anthem during the July 3, 1998 dedication ceremony, and left the school a recorded version of her rendition of the National Anthem for future sports events.

Slate roof shingles still available for purchase

Proceeds go to the Friends of the Dover Public Library

The Dover Public Library is in the process of replacing the slate roof that was original to the building built in 1904-1905. The Friends are selling the old slate for $15 each, or two or more slates for $10 each, up to 10 slate shingles per person. They are being sold as is and will come with a certificate of authenticity with some history of the library. The Friends will be selling only 1,500 of these pieces, so purchase one while you can. All proceeds from the sale of the slate go into the Friends funds which are used to help support the library in many ways. The Friends pay for programs throughout the year, support the Summer Reading Program, purchase all of the museum passes available to patrons, and much more.

For more information call the Library at 603-516-6050.

CDC recommends COVID-19 vaccines for young children

CDC endorsed the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices' (ACIP) recommendation that all children 6 months through 5 years of age should receive a COVID-19 vaccine. This expands eligibility for vaccination to nearly 20 million additional children and means that all Americans ages 6 months and older are eligible for vaccination.

Parents and caregivers can get their children 6 months through 5 years of age vaccinated with the Pfizer-BioNTech or Moderna vaccines to better protect them from COVID-19. All children, including children who have already had COVID-19, should get vaccinated.

COVID-19 vaccines have undergone—and will continue to undergo—the most intensive safety monitoring in U.S. history. Parents and caregivers can play an active role in monitoring the safety of these vaccines by signing their children up for V-safe – personalized and confidential health check-ins via text messages and web surveys where they can easily share with CDC how a child feels after getting a COVID-19 vaccine.

Parents can reach out to their doctor, nurse, local pharmacy, or health department, or visit vaccines.gov to see where vaccines for children are available.
