Dover Main Street's annual Dover Pride Clean Up Day is Saturday

Dover Main Street will host its annual Dover Pride Clean Up Day on Saturday, May 3, from 8 a.m. to noon.

Volunteers are invited to help beautify the city by participating in cleanup efforts at 10 designated areas throughout Dover. Participants should bring their own rakes, gloves and gardening tools.

Registration is available online at www.dovermainstreet.org, or volunteers can sign up in person at the Cocheco Mills Courtyard on the morning of the event.

Following the cleanup, volunteers will be treated to a complimentary all-you-can-eat pizza lunch at 11:30 a.m., provided by Kendall Pond Pizza.

The event is sponsored by Breezeline.

For more information, visit www.dovermainstreet.org.

Downtown light replacement project continues on Tuesday

Central Avenue's Third Street left-turn detour will be in effect

Crews will resume the downtown light replacement project on Tuesday, May 6. This work will block Central Avenue's left-turning lane onto Third Street during working hours, which is anticipated to continue for three more days.

Motorists will instead be detoured to the Third Street lot just north of the Broadway intersection before the train tracks. Central Avenue's southbound U-turn lane may also be intermittently closed, though crews plan to keep the lane open. Downtown parking is not expected to be impacted.

The light upgrades the median of Franklin Square is part of an overall project to upgrade aging downtown street lights, many of which were installed in the late 1970s. The goal is also to improve the overall lighting, including around the crosswalks, for improved visibility and pedestrian safety. Two new lights have been installed and are operational in the Central Avenue crosswalk between Third Street and Broadway.

The initial phase in Franklin Square will help city staff determine how much of the buried electrical conduit can be reused. If the existing conduit can be utilized, staff hope similar conditions exist for the conduit under the sidewalks of Central Avenue, reducing the impact to the public for the light installation and the project's total cost.

For more information, contact Community Services at 603-516-6450.

Central Avenue rail crossing closure extends through Saturday

Central Avenue will be closed at the railroad crossing through Saturday, May 3, as part of upgrades by the rail owner, CSX Transportation. The crossing will reopen once the work is completed.

CSX had originally planned to close Chestnut Street, but changed course this week due to equipment needs. Chestnut Street remains open during the Central Avenue closure. That intersection will be upgraded at a later date, not yet determined.

The Amtrak Downeaster will maintain a limited schedule, and overnight freight trains will continue during closure.

The closure is part of an overall track upgrade between the Brunswick, Maine and Haverhill, Massachusetts train stations. Work includes replacing roughly 124,000 ties, adding 500 tons of ballast stone per track mile and resurfacing 124 miles of track. The Federal Railroad Administration awarded Northern New England Passenger Rail Authority and CSX a $27 million grant for the upgrades; CSX is funding the rest of the $35 million project.

Library project enhancing accessibility, renovating programming spaces

The renovation of the Dover Public Library is well under way. The $7.1 million project that began in March includes adding an addition and extensive interior renovations.

The most visible aspect of the project, at least from the outside, is the construction of the addition on the parking lot side of the library. Last week, crews poured 40 yards of concrete to create the foundation.

The addition will improve the side entrance into the library, which has become the de facto main entrance due to its proximity to the parking lot. The new entrance will provide direct and accessible access to all three floors with a new stairwell and elevator. There will also be a set of bathrooms on each floor.

On the top floor, the addition will extend above a section of the library's main floor – the addition built in the late 1980s – creating additional programming space on the library's third floor.

Inside, the beloved 1905 Carnegie Library currently looks drastically different. Crews have spent considerable time stripping the interior to prepare for renovation. In the process, they've uncovered the original wooden and glass floors that have been hidden for decades. Sections of the wooden and glass floors will be restored as part of the project.

The interior restoration will open sections of the library that have been closed for storage and staff space, providing additional space for collections and programming areas. The Children's Room footprint will expand into a sizable section underneath the main part of the library, previously used for storage. The little nub on the backend of the library will become a cozy reading nook. The elevated section of the Children's Room will be transformed into a programming space, with a new accessibility ramp.

On the library's main floor, areas are being renovated for current and future needs. With the new entrance from the parking lot, the area that previously held the periodicals and computers will become a lounge with chairs and desk space for reading and working. The main desk will move into the room that was previously the reference section. Where the main desk was located will be part of the adult book collections, along with neighboring areas, including areas previously used for storage. There will also be a Teen Room, providing a dedicated area that can be closed off for games, movies and other programming.

The top floor is also being renovated, including in the lecture hall, which will get a facelift and a new sprinkler system, where most components will be tucked out of sight above the ceiling. Other spaces on the top floor will be renovated for staff space.

Library staff have been posting many photo updates to their Facebook (<https://www.facebook.com/DoverPLNH>) and Instagram (<https://www.instagram.com/doverpubliclibrary/>) accounts for those who would like to follow along with the construction process. Find floor plans and other construction updates at <https://www.dover.nh.gov/government/city-operations/library/about-us/renovation/>.

Library operations have moved to the McConnell Center during the renovation project.

Cleaning up the Community Trail on Earth Day

Two local groups helped remove trash along the Dover Community Trail to celebrate Earth Day last week. Employees from GlobalSign organized a cleanup of the trail starting from the Watson Road trailhead. Meanwhile, students and educators from KaiPod Learning removed garbage along the trail, starting at the Transportation Center and continuing along the Cochecho River landing area. Their work helps to maintain the trail area and the scenic riverfront and is a great example of how local partnerships can make a lasting difference. Interested in organizing your own clean-up? Contact City Planner Erin Bassegio at e.bassegio@dover.nh.gov.

Volunteer boards help keep Dover vibrant

The City of Dover is a vibrant community due in large part to the significant energy and talent of citizen participation on the city's many boards, committees, and commissions. Input from these boards, committees, and is not permitted.

- To ensure safety, the use of glass or breakable containers on lots is prohibited.
- Flat, ground-level foot markers should be kept free of any items.
- Lots featuring monuments with extended bases on the sides are allowed to hold flowers longer than seven days after May 26.
- Items not in accordance with these guidelines (e.g., solar lights, remembrance lights, wooden signs, shepherd hooks, personal items, etc.) will be removed and disposed of by the Cemetery Department.

The City of Dover appreciates the community's understanding and cooperation in adhering to these guidelines. If residents have any questions or concerns, please contact Facilities and Grounds Superintendent Mark Colonna at 603-516-6480.

National Community Survey coming soon

Help guide Dover's next steps

In a few weeks, the City of Dover will launch The National Community Survey. Randomly selected households will receive mailed survey invitations. If you receive an invite, please follow the instructions and share your input. Your feedback will help us make important plans for our future.

If you aren't selected for this initial survey effort, we'll also share a community-wide survey soon. To become a member of the City of Dover's digital sounding board and get notified when this community-wide survey is available, follow this link and register for a Polco profile: polco.us/n/res/signup.

Thank you for helping to create a better community for all.

Dover Download 'Question of the Week'

We want to hear from you! In each edition of Dover Download, we're looking for your response to our question of the week. A new poll will appear each week in Dover Download, along with the results for the previous week. Participating is easy – click on the link below to cast your vote.

This week's question:

"How do you usually travel around Dover?"

Let us know here: <https://polco.us/m2qkm8>

Please note that if you don't already have an account with Polco, the city's polling system, you will be asked to create one. Responses are anonymous.

Here are the results from last week's poll, which asked, "Did you graduate from Dover High School?"

This week in DOVER HISTORY

The following events are from various historical records, sources, and texts about the history of Dover.

For more on the history of Dover, visit the Dover Public Library, Locust Street, and the Woodman Museum on Central Avenue. The Public Library also maintains an online collection of historical information located here.

May 1623 — Pennacook families begin planting corn on what the first European settlers at Dover Neck would call Bellamy Bank, near the Bellamy River. A local Sagamore oversaw the fertile farmland when colonists arrived. The Pennacook planted corn on the site, which was fertilized with fish caught during the spring runs.

May 5, 1777 — During the American Revolution, each town in New Hampshire was responsible for providing a certain number of soldiers to support the Continental Army. On May 5, 1777, Dover voted to appoint Col. Otis Baker, Capt. Thomas Young, and Capt. John Hayes to recruit the remaining men needed to fill Dover's share of soldiers for the state's battalions. The town authorized them to offer the best terms possible to encourage enlistment. To support this effort, the town also directed the selectmen to provide the committee with funds to pay the recruits. This money would be raised through the town's next tax collection.

May 3, 1825 — Dover held its annual military parade and inspection, a civic tradition common in the early 19th century, when local militia companies played an important role in both defense and public life. That year, the Strafford Guards, a local militia unit, marched in formation before the home of the Honorable William Hale, a prominent Dover statesman. During the ceremony, a beautifully crafted regimental flag, referred to as a "standard," was formally presented to the Guards on behalf of the women of Dover.

May 6, 1854 — Temperatures on this day sank below freezing, causing ice nearly an inch thick to form in some areas. The cold weather was accompanied by heavy snow.

May 4, 1863 — William H. Hackett, a local soldier who served in the 35th Massachusetts Regiment during the Civil War, was buried in Dover on this day. Hackett had been killed months earlier at the Battle of Antietam in Maryland, one of the bloodiest battles in American history, fought on Sept. 17, 1862. Though he died on the battlefield, Hackett's remains were eventually returned to his hometown, where he was honored and laid to rest among family and fellow citizens.

Learn how to experience bird migrations with author Heather Wolf

It's an exciting time in nature. The weather is warming, animals are coming out of hibernation, flowers are beginning to bud and, from March 1 through June 15, we see the return of our feathered friends from the south.
