Volunteer boards help keep Dover vibrant

The City of Dover is a vibrant community due in large part to the significant energy and talent of citizen participation on the city's many boards, committees, and commissions. Input from these boards, committees, and commissions helps guide Dover's policy decisions.

Want to get involved? There are currently committees seeking members to fill regular and alternate member vacancies, including:

- Downtown Dover TIF
- Open Lands Committee
- Racial Equity and Inclusion Committee
- Recreation Advisory Board

To apply, complete an application, and return it to the City Clerk's Office, or email it to City Clerk Jerrica Vanslyvong-Bizier. Applicants are welcome to apply to any board or commission. Applications are kept on file for one year.

The City Council appoints citizens to boards and commissions from recommendations of its Appointments Committee, which meets regularly to review applications.

Dover Arts Commission accepting grant applications for 2026-27

The Dover Arts Commission is accepting applications for City Arts Grants for fiscal year 2027, supporting arts projects, programs and activities that enrich the quality of life for Dover residents.

Grants are available to individuals, groups and nonprofit organizations for specific arts initiatives that benefit the broader community. Eligible projects include concerts, performances, festivals, workshops, exhibits, readings, after-school programs and other creative endeavors that engage artists and bring arts experiences to the public.

Those considering applying for a grant are encouraged to email a brief outline of their proposed project to ArtsCommission-All@dover.nh.gov before submitting a formal application.

The City Arts Grants program supports the commission's mission to foster creativity, encourage artistic expression and expand opportunities for residents to experience and participate in the arts.

For more information, eligibility details and the grant application, visit the Dover Arts Commission's City Arts Grants webpage.

Oak Street now open at Central Avenue

Southbound detour on Mount Vernon Street continues

Oak Street is now open at Central Avenue. However, the right-hand turning lane from Central Avenue to Oak Street will remain closed as utility work continues in the area. Motorists may still turn right from the northbound travel lane.

The southbound detour on Central Avenue will continue during construction hours, Monday-Friday, from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The work is part of the Central Avenue Urban Core Water Improvements to replace a critical water transmission line on Central Avenue from Broadway to Abbey Sawyer Memorial Drive, and on Abbey Sawyer Memorial Drive to the water tank. The contractor for the project is S.U.R. Construction, Inc., of Rochester.

For more information, contact Community Services at 603-516-6450.

Rollins Road, Highland Avenue water main work continues

The City of Dover is replacing an aging and undersized water main on Rollins Road and Highland Avenue. The City of Dover's water system supplies water for a section of Rollinsford through a franchise agreement.

The new water main will be installed on Rollins Road from the Oak Street intersection to Highland Avenue, and on Highland Avenue. New public water service lines will also be replaced. The City of Dover has contracted with MacKinnon and Sons to perform the work for $425,000.

Excavation work on Rollins Road began this week. The project is estimated to take about 35 work days, conditions permitting. Trenches will be paved for the winter with final pavement slated for 2027.

Rollins Road will be reduced to one lane of alternating traffic during work hours, Monday through Friday, from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m., when workers are present. Flaggers will also be at the Oak Street intersection when work occurs there early in the project. Motorists should anticipate delays through the area.

For more information, contact Community Services at 603-516-6450.

Daily lane closures on Spaulding Turnpike southbound continue through Nov. 16

Daily lane closures are in effect on the southbound Spaulding Turnpike in Dover as work continues to demolish the General Sullivan Bridge.

Weather permitting, lane closures will be in effect from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. between mile markers 4.2 and 3.6. The closures are expected to continue through approximately Monday, Nov. 16. The lane closures will allow crews to remove the center span of the General Sullivan Bridge.

The work is part of the ongoing demolition of the General Sullivan Bridge between Dover and Newington. Reed & Reed Inc. of Woolwich, Maine, is the general contractor for the $28.4 million project, which is scheduled for completion in summer 2027.

The following events are from various historical records, sources, and texts about the history of Dover.

For more on the history of Dover, visit the Dover Public Library, Locust Street, and the Woodman Museum on Central Avenue. The Public Library also maintains an online collection of historical information.

Oct. 18, 1649 — Edward Starbuck of Dover found himself in trouble with the Massachusetts General Court over what was described as a serious offense involving Anabaptism, a religious movement whose beliefs challenged those of the Puritan authorities. Starbuck was to face proceedings before the Court of Assistants if sufficient evidence could be gathered. Because witnesses would have difficulty traveling to Boston at that time of year, Capt. Thomas Wigginn and Edward Smith were appointed to collect testimony locally. Starbuck's alleged offense was wearing his hair longer than the law permitted. At the time, colonial authorities considered long hair sinful.

Oct. 21, 1657 — Dover officials took steps to prevent the wasteful cutting of timber by reinforcing an existing town regulation. Residents were prohibited from cutting down more than five trees for clapboards or pipe staves until they had processed the timber already felled. Clapboards were used for building exteriors, while pipe staves were fashioned into barrels and other wooden containers. To enforce the rule, Joseph Austin was appointed to oversee Dover Neck, while Thomas Footman was assigned to Oyster River. Each was entitled to half the fines collected from violations. Other residents who reported and proved violations could receive the same reward, effectively encouraging neighbors to help enforce the town's timber regulations.

Oct. 18, 1734 — Christina Baker received permission to operate a house of public entertainment in Dover, an establishment that would have served travelers and local residents with food, drink and possibly lodging. Baker had a remarkable connection to one of Dover's darkest chapters. Born Christina Otis, she was the daughter of Capt. Richard Otis and was taken captive as an infant, along with her mother and others, during the devastating Native American attack of retribution on Dover in 1689. More than four decades later, her petition to operate a public house was approved.

Oct. 16, 1746 — New Hampshire's governor designated a day of public fasting and prayer as the colony faced two serious threats: a French fleet off the New England coast and a disappointing harvest. The arrival of French warships raised fears of an attack during King George's War, while poor agricultural yields threatened the food supply as winter approached. In colonial New England, days of fasting and prayer were commonly proclaimed during periods of danger or hardship.

Oct. 18, 1927 — The clubhouse of the Cochecho Country Club is destroyed by fire.

Pumpkin Stroll to light up downtown Oct. 24

Community-carved jack-o'-lanterns will illuminate the Riverwalk during a free, family-friendly Halloween event

Communitively, through its Discover Dover NH initiative, will host the inaugural Dover Pumpkin Stroll on Saturday, Oct. 24, 2026, from 5 to 8 p.m. at the Joe B. Parks Riverwalk Public Gardens and Waldron Court in downtown Dover. Profile Bank is the presenting sponsor of the free, family-friendly event.

The Dover Pumpkin Stroll will feature a self-guided evening walk among community-carved jack-o'-lanterns displayed along the garden paths beside the Cochecho River. Visitors can enter through the metal arch near 400 Central Ave. and follow paths illuminated by decorative lighting, seasonal displays and hand-carved pumpkins. The event will also feature a designated family-friendly photo opportunity and Halloween-themed music.

Downtown businesses will display pumpkins and invite the community to vote for their favorites. Visitors can pick up a Pumpkin Stroll map highlighting participating businesses. Pumpkins from businesses outside the immediate downtown area will be displayed in Waldron Court. The winner of the People's Choice Business Pumpkin Award will be announced at 8 p.m., at the conclusion of the event.

Residents, families, schools, community groups and local organizations are invited to contribute carved pumpkins to help transform the gardens into a glowing community display. Pumpkins may be dropped off from noon to 3 p.m. on the day of the event at the Orchard Street parking lot.

Organized groups are encouraged to register in advance and provide an estimated number of pumpkins to help organizers plan display space and event logistics. Families and individuals may participate without advance registration. Participants who wish to retrieve their pumpkins may do so between 8 and 8:30 p.m. Any pumpkins remaining after 8:30 p.m. will be disposed of by event organizers.

The Pumpkin Stroll is being coordinated with several downtown partners to offer an afternoon and evening of family activities. Dover Main Street will hold its Zombie Walk from 3 to 5 p.m. The Woodman Museum will relocate its annual Trunk or Treat event to the Orchard Street parking lot from 5 to 7 p.m. The Children's Museum will offer pumpkin-themed activities on its Play Patio, including a pumpkin toss, self-serve face painting and temporary tattoos, from 5 to 7 p.m.

Organizers hope the Pumpkin Stroll will become an annual Dover tradition celebrating creativity, community participation and opportunities for families to gather downtown.

The rain date is Saturday, Oct. 31. Event updates, pumpkin participation information and additional details will be shared through Discover Dover NH.

City urges water conservation amid ongoing drought conditions

The City of Dover urges residents and businesses to voluntarily reduce water consumption due to the ongoing regional drought conditions. These voluntary measures will remain in place until drought conditions improve.

While many communities across the region implemented mandatory water restrictions, the city anticipates voluntary water use reductions will be sufficient, said Community Services Director John Storer, who oversees the city's water system.

Current aquifer levels were discussed at the City Council's workshop on the city's water utility system on Wednesday, Sept. 2, 2026. The Dover Utilities Commission discussed groundwater levels and drought conditions at its meeting on Monday, Sept. 21.

The region has experienced drought conditions since July 8, 2025, when the U.S. Drought Monitor classified the region to be abnormally dry. Conditions worsened to moderate drought levels on Aug. 12, 2025, followed by severe drought conditions starting on Sept. 16, 2026. Severe drought conditions persisted through June 30, 2026, when conditions were upgraded to moderate drought conditions, where it has remained.

Ways to conserve water

The public can conserve water in many ways:

- Limit outdoor watering. According to the EPA, irrigation accounts for 30% of residential water use nationally — about 9 billion gallons per day. Avoid irrigating during the day, especially the hottest parts of the day when evaporation is highest.
- Utilize commercial car washes. They are more efficient with water and don't dump dirty water into the storm drains.
- Fixing leaky plumbing conserves water and saves money. Leaking faucets and toilets can waste thousands of gallons a year, leading to increased water bills.
- Be mindful of indoor water use. Take shorter showers, turn off the water when brushing teeth, and run dishwashers and washing machines only when full.

Find additional resources at the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's WaterSense online resource.

Track water use, get leak alerts with 'Eye On Water'

The city's public water customers can monitor their water usage with the Eye On Water online portal and mobile app. The system helps track daily, monthly, and yearly consumption; users can also sign up to receive alerts for potential leaks. Customers will need their account number from their water bill. For assistance, contact the Water and Sewer Billing Office at 603-516-6028.

Blood donation saves lives

Every two seconds someone in the U.S. needs blood. It is essential for surgeries, cancer treatment, chronic illnesses, and traumatic injuries. Whether a patient receives whole blood, red cells, platelets or plasma, this lifesaving care starts with one person making a generous donation.

American

Thousands of patients rely on lifesaving blood donations every day. The average red blood cell transfusion is approximately 3 units; a single car accident victim can require as many as 100 units of blood. The need for blood is constant.

Schedule a blood donation appointment through the Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting RedCrossBlood.org, or calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767). Learn more about the donation process.
